"What has been will be again. What has been done will be done again."
☆

— ECCLESIASTES 1:9 —

☆ "A person can do nothing better than eat and drink and be glad in their work. I see that this is from the hand of God." ☆

— ECCLESIASTES 2:24 —

☆ "There is a time for everything. There is a season for every activity under the heavens." ☆

☆
“Two people are better than one. They can help each other in everything they do.”
☆

• — ECCLESIASTES 4:9 — •

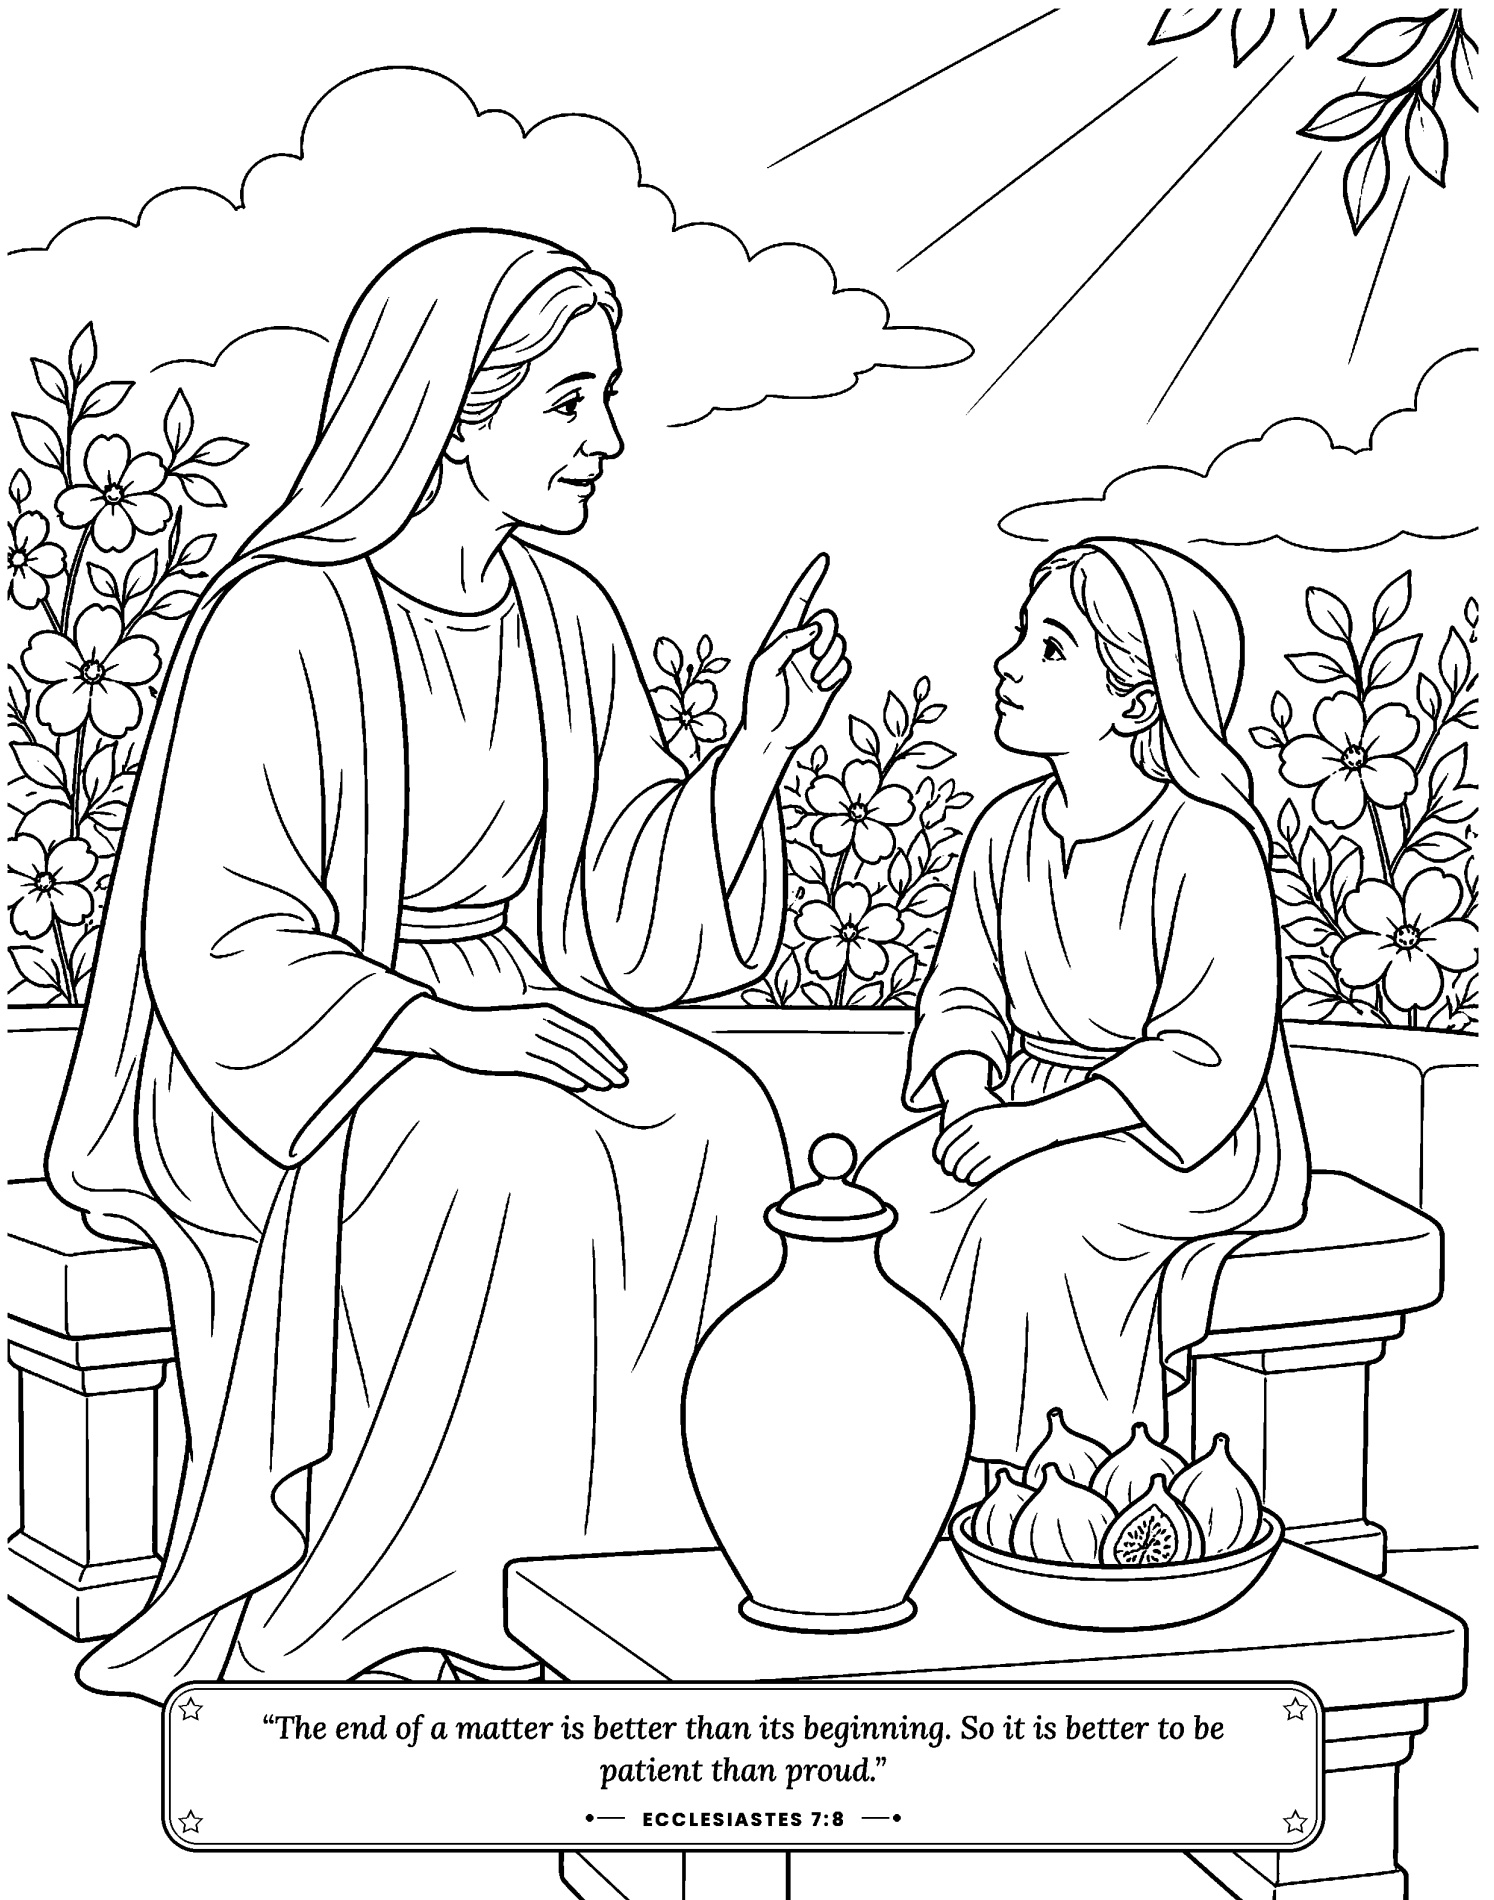

☆ "God gives some people wealth and possessions. He gives them the ability to enjoy them. They should accept these gifts and be happy." ☆

— ECCLESIASTES 5:19 —

☆
"It is better to be happy with what you have than to always want more."
☆

• — ECCLESIASTES 6:9 — •

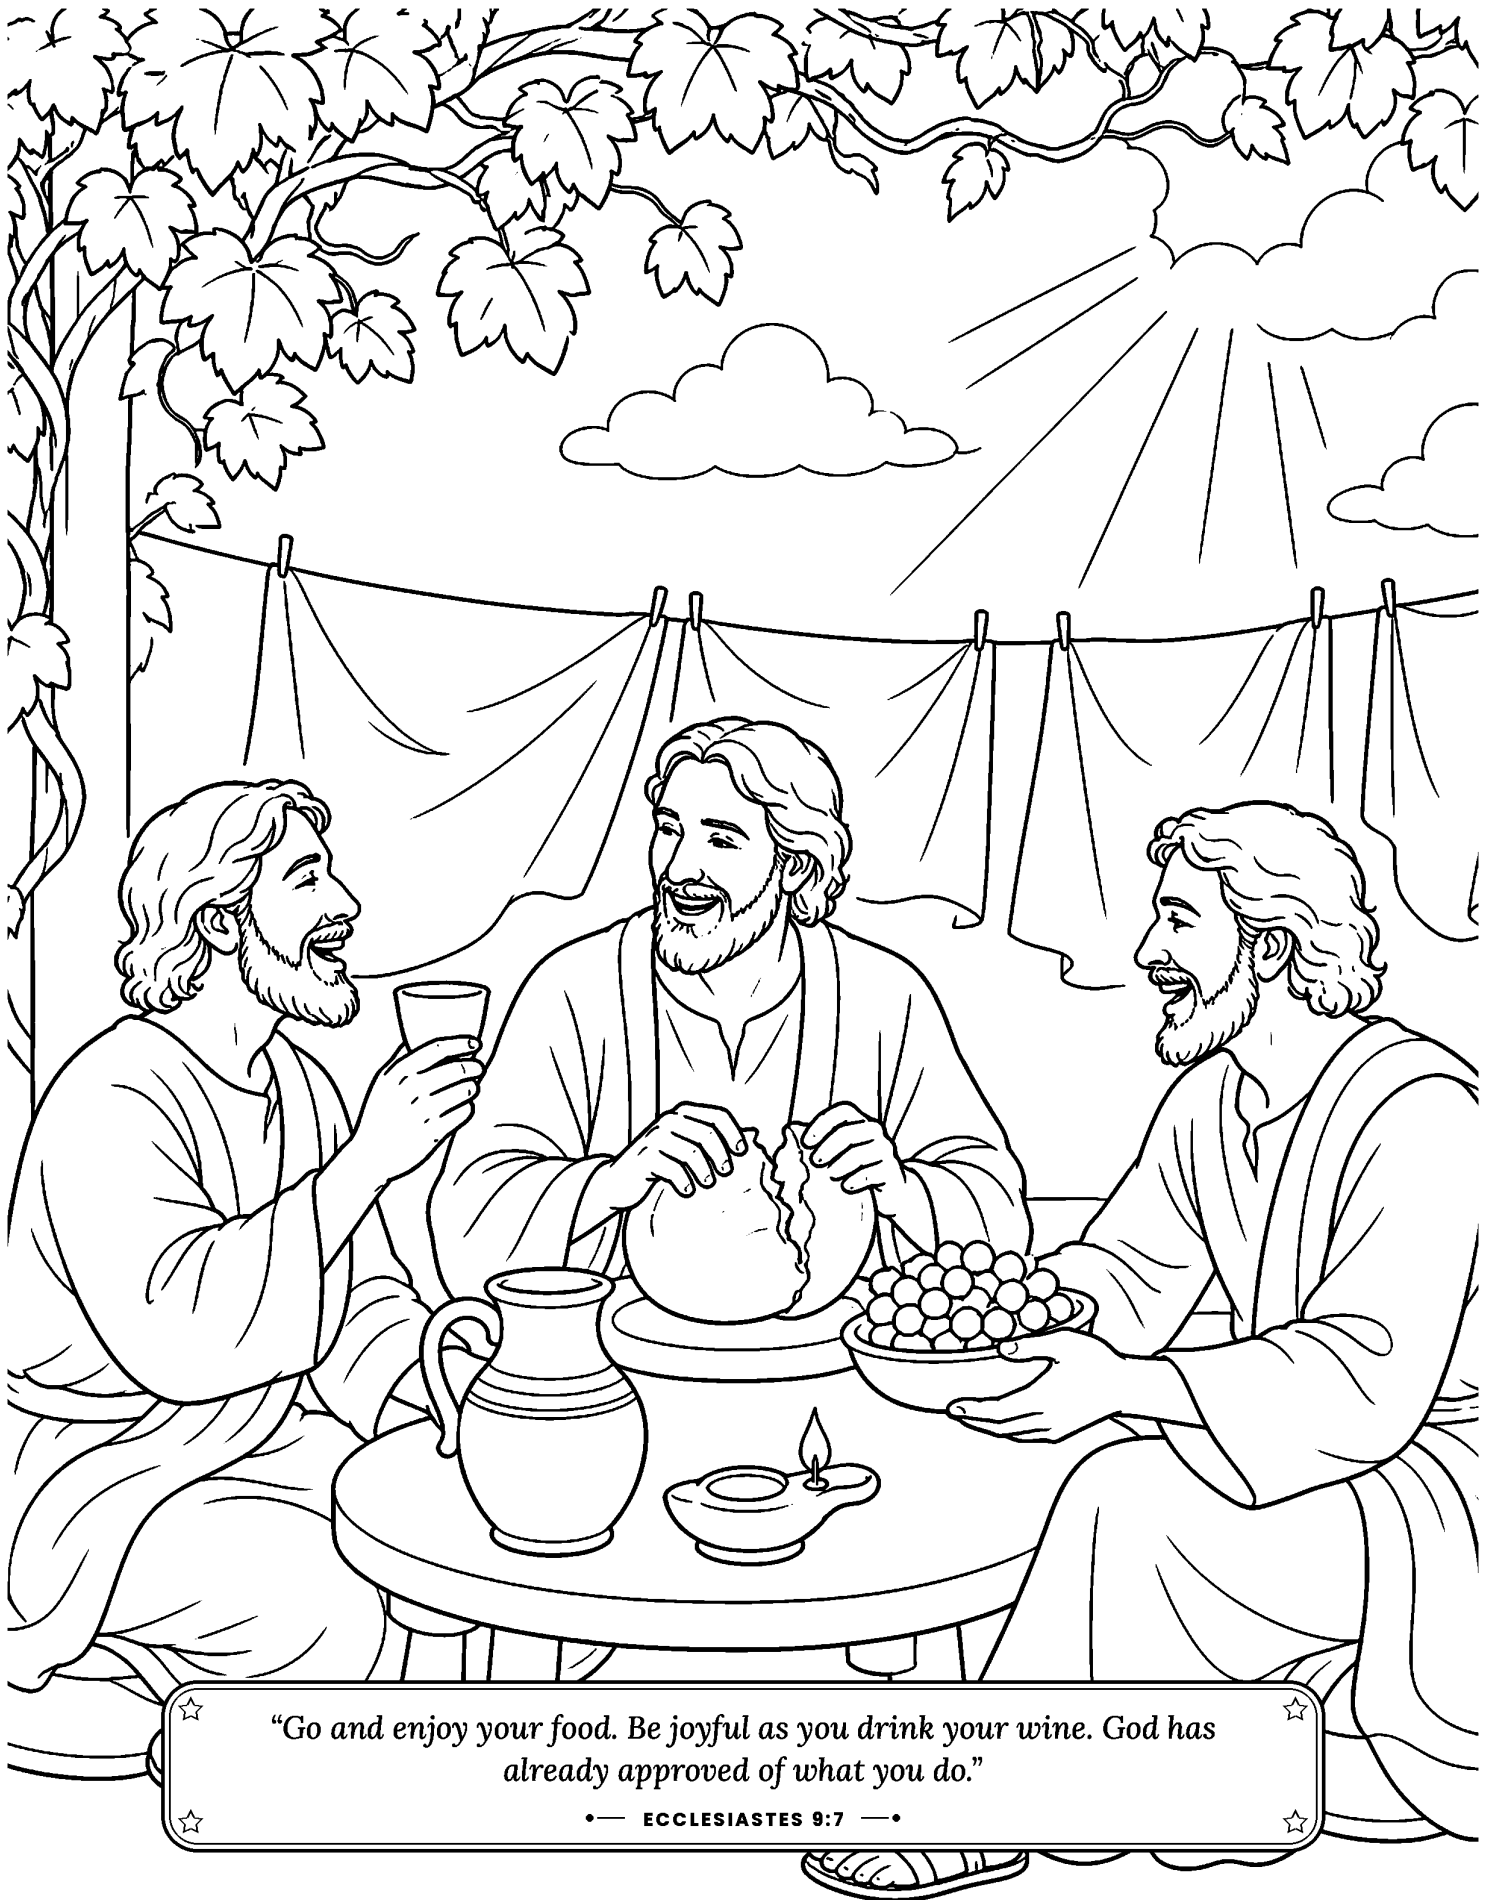

☆ "The end of a matter is better than its beginning. So it is better to be patient than proud." ☆

☆ — ECCLESIASTES 7:8 — ☆

☆ "So I advise everyone to enjoy their food and drink. And they should be glad." ☆

◆ — ECCLESIASTES 8:15 — ◆

☆ "Go and enjoy your food. Be joyful as you drink your wine. God has already approved of what you do." ☆

— ECCLESIASTES 9:7 —

☆ "Words from the mouth of a wise person are full of grace." ☆

— ECCLESIASTES 10:12 —

"Light is sweet. It pleases the eye to see the sun."

• — ECCLESIASTES 11:7 — •

"Remember your Creator while you are still young."
